

METHOD AND RELATED APPARATUS FOR CONTROLLING DATA TRANSMISSION IN A MEMORY

Abstract

A computer system has a processor, a memory for storing data, and a memory controller electrically connected to the processor and the memory for controlling data transmission with the memory. The method includes driving the memory controller to retrieve a data bit located in a first memory address, and driving the memory controller to store the data bit in the a second memory address without delivering the data bit to the processor.